

What's the purpose

of the BC Golfers' Challenge? Bluefield College strives to be a Christ-centered college, preparing innovative learners and transformational leaders to impact the world.

One particular way students are transformed is through athletic programs, and the Golfers' Challenge provides essential funds to support BC athletics.

Proceeds from the Golfers' Challenge enable our student-athletes to compete at championship levels and to grow physically, mentally and spiritually.

The Ram EFFORT

is a model by which the BC Department of Athletics seeks to develop Christian character and to pursue athletic excellence. Through Energy, Faith, Focus, Ownership, Respect, and Teamwork – the Ram EFFORT – BC student-athletes are actively engaged in Christ-centered and character driven athletics at Bluefield College.

Where does your money go?

Funds from the BC Golfers' Challenge go directly to the BC Fund for Scholarships, a vital source of financial aid for students. In fact, more than 90 percent of Bluefield College students depend on some form of financial aid,
like the BC Fund. Without it, they might not otherwise have the opportunity to attend BC.
